About Us

Home to over 100,000 Muslims - the highest concentration of Muslims in Britain - Madani girl's school is located in the heart of the Muslim population in the United Kingdom

To meet the growing spiritual, educational and cultural needs of Muslims, the community within East London has established various religious and educational institutions. East London boasts more than 28 mosques, the largest Muslim Community Centre in Europe and over fifteen Muslim boys schools.

Madani Girls School is the only Muslim Girls School in the London Borough of Tower Hamlets, the result of a group of dedicated parents who made a momentous decision to start a small school in 1991 with the blessing of the scholars and community leaders.

The school has been continuously progressing and advancing, achieving GCSE pass rates of 86% to 100 % since it's founding. In line with its tradition of growth and progress. It is proud to launch an Alimah course for young learners aged 16 and above.

A carefully selected list of subjects and teaching methods aim to provide students with a strong grounding in the Islamic Sciences and Arabic, as well as three A - levels to be studied over four years.

The course will equip students with excellent communication skills in English and Arabic, a strong appreciation of the Islamic Sciences.
